University of Saskatchewan Undergraduate Research Journal

Publication Agreement

The purpose of this agreement is to obtain consent from all parties with claims to the intellectual property of the article before proceeding to publication in the University of Saskatchewan Undergraduate Research Journal (USURJ). Consent to publication is required from the primary author (undergraduate student) and the supervisor/principal investigator or instructor of the course in which the article was written. Further information about the journal, including submission guidelines and policies, can be found at www.usask.ca/usurj.

Upon submission at www.usask.ca/usurj, this publication agreement must be filled out and uploaded along with the information page and the anonymized article. See www.usask.ca/usurj for more information. If you have any questions, contact usurj@usask.ca.

I. Introduction

USURJ is an online, peer-reviewed scholarly journal featuring original work by University of Saskatchewan undergraduate students. Founded by undergraduate students, the journal celebrates undergraduate contributions to research. USURJ publishes high quality research and review articles written by undergraduates in all disciplines and professional colleges. All submissions are reviewed by established experts in the relevant field.

II. Review Process

Peer review is integral to USURJ's editorial process. It allows the Editorial Board to make informed, fair assessments of potential articles for publication and provides invaluable feedback to authors regarding strengths of their article and areas requiring improvement.

Please provide the names of at least two University of Saskatchewan faculty members with expertise in a related research area (excluding the author's supervisor or course instructor in which the research was conducted) to aid the Editorial Board in determining potential reviewers.

Please do not contact the potential reviewers or you will compromise the blind review process.

III. Authorship

All persons listed as authors must have

- made a substantial contribution to the concept and design, acquisition of data or analysis or interpretation of data;
- drafted the article or revised it critically for important intellectual content; and
- approved the version to be published.

In the case of multi-authored works, an undergraduate student or students must be the primary (first) author(s). Undergraduate students who contributed equally to the article and wish to share primary authorship may be listed with an asterisk (*) and accompanying note.

IV. Authors' Rights<sup>1</sup>

USURJ is an open-access journal. Unless you indicate otherwise, articles will be published with authors holding full copyright protection. You may also publish under a Creative Commons license (see <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/>); you can make a final decision on licensing prior to final publication. Work submitted cannot have been published previously and should not be under consideration for publication elsewhere.

<sup>1</sup> Please note that these Authors' Rights were revised after the publication of Volume 1, Issues 1 and 2. Authors published in Volume 1, Issue 1 and in Volume 1, Issue 2 may request these reworded rights: usurj@usask.ca. Agreement of all authors must be given.

<sup>2</sup> If the supervisor/principal investigator or course instructor cannot sign in person, please forward this document for their signature. They can scan it and email it to you for uploading. If the person cannot be reached, have another professor familiar with the assignment sign it. Email usurj@usask.ca if you require any advice.

VI. Additional Information

Please provide below any information that will aid the Editorial Board in making a decision regarding publication. Possible conflicts of interest may be stated here (e.g., author's family member on the editorial board); USURJ editors have processes in place to prevent bias. Inquiries and comments may also be submitted in confidence to USURJ@usask.ca.
