The College of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies is committed to serving our graduate community and ensuring quality experiences for all constituents - students, faculty and staff – during all stages of graduate programming, including recruitment, admissions, program completion and alumni relations. The CGPS will assume a variety of supportive and leadership roles to advance on institutional strategic priorities.